

Hitler's Europe Is Blasted By Terrific Allied Air Attack

ALLIED SPIRITS ARE LIFTED by sights like this as a large formation of American Flying Fortresses makes a pattern against the clouds en route to Germany.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(P)—RAF heavy bombers made a strong attack on the German Research and Development establishment of Peenemuende, 60 miles northwest of Stettin, last night while Mosquito raiders attacked objectives in Berlin, the Air Ministry announced today.

The attack on the largest and most important establishment of its kind in Germany was carried out in moonlight almost as bright as day.

Forty-one bombers and one fighter were reported missing from the night's operations, which, in addition to raids on Peenemuende and Berlin, included intruder attacks on north-west Germany, France and the low countries by fighter squadrons.

Stockholm dispatches said the Germans view the heavy assaults on French air fields by great fleets of American four-engined bombers as a prelude to the invasion of France.

While the RAF continued its mighty aerial offensive against Germany, the Nazis were reported watching with mounting concern not only the Fortress raids on air fields but the tightening circle of heavy American attacks against the heart of Germany herself.

The Berlin correspondent of Svenska Dagbladet said the Germans knew the blows against air fields in the vicinity of Marseille yesterday and on the north coast of France the previous day "must be connected with higher military strategy dealing with the start of another European front."

American daylight bombings were reported prompting Axis satellite Hungary to prepare to declare Budapest an open city. Dispatches from the German capital also reported the announcement that Nazi troops had ceased fighting and had been withdrawing from Sicily came as a shock to many Germans.

The night raids followed widespread daylight assaults by American Flying Fortresses which battered two important aircraft factories deep in Germany yesterday, inaugurating daylight Britain-to-Africa shuttle bombing.

Many squadrons of RAF fighters crossed the Strait of Dover in daylight today to continue the furious Allied air assault on the continent.

ALLIES POUND INVASION GATE OF ITALY

Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH. FAYETTE

Morton L. Long, who moved from this city to Kansas when he was a boy six years of age, is visiting his brother, E. C. Long at 323 Delaware Street, his first trip back to Washington C. H. in 74 years.

He dropped into the Record Herald office Tuesday afternoon, bringing with him a letter written by his grandfather, Chandler Tuttle, 92 years ago, in which some interesting prices are quoted.

The letter bears date of January 19, 1851, and is addressed to his children in Illinois.

The letter, four full pages, was written before envelopes were used, and was simply folded over and sealed with wax. It is one of the finest specimens of the "copper plate engraving" type of writing I have ever seen, every letter of every word being almost perfect. And it was written with a goose quill pen!

Here are some of the prices carried in the letter, and I am surprised that some of them were so high: Wheat 75 to 80 cents per bushel; corn 25 cents to 40 cents per bushel; pork $7.50 per hundred pounds. Horses $80 to $100 each and sheep $1 to $2 each.

Long's great grandfather was Captain John Baldwin, of Kentucky, who fought in the Revolutionary War, and outfitted his entire company. He is buried in the Baldwin Cemetery near Madison Mills.

Long resides down in the southeast corner of Kansas a few miles from Joplin, Mo., and the big lead and zinc mining area, where I have seen piles of "chat" or refuse from the mines, that tower several hundred feet in height and cover 50 acres or more.

He has been a music teacher and choir director all of his life, and directed his last choir a year ago. He is now nearly 80 years of age.

The chewing gum shortage apparently is growing more acute, and much of the time nearly all of the dealers are without gum.

Likewise, candy bars are not abundant, and have not been for eight or ten months.

There are indications, however, that there will soon be an increase in both chewing gum and candy bars, as result of allocation of 10 percent more sugar to manufacturers of these products.

A little later on I am expecting the ban on sugar to be lifted entirely, and the rationing has not been such a serious thing after all. In fact, it has been beneficial to a host of people who had been using entirely too much sugar for good health.

MEAT IN STORAGE IN U. S. INCREASES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—Stocks of meats held in storage in warehouses and meat packing plants in the nation showed a substantial increase during July, reversing the usual trend for that month, the War Food Administration announced.

Frozen and cured meats on hand August 1, the WFA said, totaled 755,700,000 pounds. This was 124,600,000 pounds above the August 1, 1942, stocks and 135,600,000 pounds above the August 1 average for 1938-42.

Task of Mapping Next Move Against Axis, Expected To Require Week

RECEPTION IS COLORFUL

Unconditional Surrender of Axis Is Primary Aim of Two Allied Leaders

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

QUEBEC, Aug. 18.—(P)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill surrounded by the highest military leaders of their nations plunged today into the task of mapping the next strategic moves to compel the unconditional surrender of the earliest possible moment.

As the historic conference began there were indications that it would take a week to complete the new war pattern and place the final stamp of approval on plans drawn up by the staffs of military experts in the light of recent Allied victories.

Mr. Roosevelt, last to reach the French Canadian scene of deliberations which almost certainly will result in stepping up the war in Europe and the far east, came in from Washington late yesterday to be greeted by his

STOCK OF GASOLINE IN U. S. SHRINKING

Supply Diminishes Despite Increased Refining

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—The nation's gasoline stocks dropped 5,900,000 barrels during June although refineries distilled more crude oil and stepped up the percentage of gasoline produced from it, the Bureau of Mines reported today.

Total stocks were 67,225,000 barrels on June 30, against 73,155,000 barrels at the end of the previous month and 80,055,000 barrels on June 30, 1942.

No explanation was given but it appeared likely the situation reflected heavy military demand.

American Doughboys Seem Lost In Messina Ruins After Battle

By DON WHITEHEAD

MESSINA, Sicily, Aug. 18.—(P)—Pvt. Hays Cathey of Ola, Ark., leaned his rifle against a wall, unhooked his pack from tired shoulders, and stepped into the street to take a look at Messina's bomb-wrecked buildings.

"Well," Cathey said with finality, "that's all there is, there ain't no more."

So he sat down on a debris-littered curbstone and opened a tin of cheese. For Private Cathey was hungry after an all-night march and wasn't particularly interested in the dramatics of the conquest of Sicily.

In one sentence he condensed the story of the fall of Sicily, for he and other doughboys had run out of ridges to climb, cities to capture and enemies to battle across each rocky slope. This was the end of the road on the 38th day of the invasion. And across the Straits of Messina loomed the dark mountains of the mainland of Italy.

When the first patrols came down from the mountains to occupy the enemy's last stronghold on the island, only a few stray shots from

Sneak Jap Attack Smashed As Yank Fliers Hit Air Base

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Aug. 18.—(P)—The Japanese air force was dealt its most humiliating defeat of the war Tuesday at Wewak, New Guinea, where 225 of its planes were caught on the ground by Allied bombers, 120 destroyed, 50 severely damaged and an estimated 1,500 air personnel killed.

Only seven of the enemy planes even got into the air and three were shot down. Out of some 200 planes in the raiding party, only three were lost.

This staggering blow, virtually stripping the enemy of his air strength in central New Guinea, was dealt by 10,000 bombs dropped from Liberators, Flying Fortresses, Mitchells and Bostons.

"Numerically, the opposing forces were about equal in strength but one was in the air and the other was not," Gen. Douglas MacArthur commented jubilantly.

"Nothing is so helpless as a plane on the ground."

"It was the opening battle for air supremacy over central New Guinea," said Maj. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead, commander of the advance echelon of Allied air forces in the southwest Pacific.

The surprise was complete and devastating.

Allied reconnaissance planes had detected the Japanese massing the greatest force of planes they ever had assembled in the Wewak area. Obviously, the enemy intended to make some surprise move in support of Japanese jungle troops now falling back slowly before Americans and Australians near Salamaua, Nipponese air base 350 miles down the New Guinea coast from Wewak.

The surprise worked the other way.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—A new and drastic policy to force compliance with War Labor Board decisions by unions and employers alike was placed in effect today by President Roosevelt.

Withdrawal of a union's contractual rights and privileges or withholding of priorities and war contracts from employers is authorized.

It is the administration's first move to penalize unions for ignoring or disobeying WLB decisions, although employers have been acted against in some cases.

The new policy "puts teeth in both upper and lower jaws," said a WLB spokesman.

Included in punishment provided for unions is a prospective blow in the pocketbook, at least for those having the check-off system of dues collection. They would be deprived of dues taken out of members' pay envelopes pending compliance. The money then would be turned over to them.

The president in his letter to Davis said it was his earnest wish that punitive "sanctions," which he said exist "only as a matter of wartime necessity," may not have to be invoked. He praised the board's work to date, asserting that of more than 1,000 disputes disposed of in the last 18 months, only seven were referred to him for "persistent non-compliance."

PEACE DISCUSSION IS ON BERLIN RADIO

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(P)—A discussion of peace—but not of the unconditional surrender the Allies' leaders demand—came last night from the Berlin radio.

"Recent events have chastened the extremists in Germany and by their very seriousness might make a just peace more acceptable to the German people," a German commentator said in a broadcast recorded by NBC. He added "this doesn't mean unconditional surrender."

The commentator, identified only as "Bill," declared "able and fair-minded statesmen" could draft a "reasonable, just and honest peace."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—An acute shipping shortage resulting largely from Allied torpedoes, shells and bombs is making it difficult for Japan to get at her newly-won East Indian riches.

The Netherlands information bureau estimated today, on the basis of Tokyo broadcasts and information available to Australia that the Japanese had suffered a net loss of 500,000 to 750,000 tons of merchant shipping since the war began.

The Japanese have said on several occasions they needed 20,000,000 tons or more of merchant shipping to exploit the conquered areas.

ITALIANS UNDER GERMAN DOMINATION IN GREECE AND IN DANGEROUS MOOD

By FRANK J. O'BRIEN

ISTANBUL, Aug. 13.—(Delayed)—While Rome hesitates between war and peace, an uneasy stalemate loaded with explosive possibilities has descended upon Greece where more than 200,000 Italian soldiers are virtual hostages in the hands of the Germans.

A general Italian evacuation, reported here to have begun a few days after Mussolini's resignation, now is understood to have been stopped.

The Germans have rushed into strategic points in Greece, especially ports, and are said to have seized command of virtually all means of transport, stripped the

City in Ruins When Weary Yanks Enter -- Ready To Go On When Word Comes

AXIS LOSSES ARE HEAVY

Conquest of Stepping Stone Island Completed Ahead Of Schedule

By DANIEL DE LUCE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 18.—(P)—Allied guns boomed in a duel with heavy Axis batteries across the Messina Strait today in a warm-up against Hitler's European fortress.

The battle for Sicily had been finished "ahead of schedule," Allied headquarters said, with the occupation of Messina yesterday.

Massed formations of Allied warplanes already were carrying the war to the Italian mainland in pursuit of the discomfited foe, stringing a trail of bombs along highways and roads and chewing up troop-carrying trains and trucks with machine-gun and cannon fire.

The heaviest of these attacks were spearheaded by Battipaglia freight yards of Naples, a network of highways at Castrovillare near Salerno south of Naples and a bridge at Angitola.

During the last hours of the German flight across the Strait of Messina, it was disclosed, Allied warplanes sank nine more small craft, probably crowded with troops, and dropped bombs so close to a large number of others that it is doubtful if they escaped serious damage.

In the 12 days between August 5 and August 17 a total of 306 Axis ships and boats were destroyed or damaged while moving the beaten Axis army over to the mainland, Allied headquarters said.

At least 34 ships are known to have been destroyed, 47 left dead in the water but still afloat after direct hits and the remainder severely damaged by near misses.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced today Axis losses in the Sicilian campaign up to August 10 totaled 167,000 killed, wounded and prisoners.

The commander in chief said German losses while crossing the Strait of Messina probably never would be known.

He estimated the Nazi commanders had between 70,000 and

German Attack In Russia Fails To Stop Drive

Assaults by Reinforced Nazi Horde in Kharkov Sector Beaten Off—Soviets Declare Allies Failed To Take Advantage Of Chance To Invade Europe

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, Aug. 18.—(P)—The German command has mounted powerful counter-attacks with troops, tanks and planes at two points on the Kharkov front, but Russian lines held firm, battlefield dispatches reported today.

Seeking an opening for a counter offensive, the Germans struck at a settlement west of Kharkov held by the Red army, and along the water line where the Russians maintained a bridgehead on the west bank, the dispatches said.

The fourth battle for Kharkov—which has been taken once by the Red army and twice by the Germans—became a tug-of-war for the initiative.

Two other Russian drives in the Bryansk and Spas Demensk sectors to the north also met tougher going.

(German broadcasts declared the Soviets were attacking all along the winding battlefield, staging new attacks in the Izum area in the Donets basin south-east of Kharkov, and local assaults near Staraya Russa and the Neva sector near Leningrad on the northern front. Russian attacks near Izum were broken after heavy fighting, Berlin declared.)

Pushed back within 15 miles of the central front bastion of Bryansk, the Germans were using reserves of tanks and planes in stubborn defense there.

(A British radio broadcast heard by CBS said the Red army was within 12 miles of Bryansk.)

Front reports said more than 10,000 Germans had been killed in the Bryansk and Kharkov offensives.

The Russian army newspaper Red Star, commenting on the Roosevelt-Churchill conference at Quebec, said today the Allies had failed to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the Soviet summer offensive to strike

MENTAL DEFECTIVES PROBLEM FOR OHIO

Concern Aroused by Killing of Twins in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18.—(P)—State Welfare Director Herbert R. Mooney planned today to investigate the possibility of using dormitories outside the Mansfield Reformatory to help care for degenerates and mental defectives.

This plan was the outgrowth of a conference of state, county and city welfare officials and judges, arranged by Mayor Frank J. Lausche to consider ways of preventing a recurrence of crimes like the slayings last week of James and Charles Collins, 13-year-old twins.

Henry Hagert, 17, reform school parolee recently released from a hospital psychopathic ward, is charged with the killings.

HITLER'S EUROPE BLASTED BY TERRIFIC ALLIED AIR ATTACK ON ALL SIDES

An estimated 50 German raiders made widely scattered attacks on Britain during the night, causing casualties and damage in East Anglia and other parts of eastern and southeastern England.

Ten of the raiders were shot down—seven of them over Britain and three near their European bases.

No attempt was made to concentrate any appreciable number of bombers on any one target. Instead they scattered widely in an apparent effort to suggest greater strength. The targets were not identified here but the German radio said the invading flyers focused on Lincoln.

The daylight assaults by the Flying Fortresses yesterday, carried out on the first anniversary of the Eighth Air Force's advent in this combat theater, represented one of the most spectacular aerial thrusts of the war.

The American heavy bombers flew to Regensburg in the southeastern corner of Germany near Munich, dropped their bomb loads on the Nazis second largest Messerschmitt factory and continued on to bases in North Africa to complete a 1,800-mile flight.

Other Flying Fortresses fought through the stiffest fighter opposition in weeks to blast at the 72-acre ball bearing plant at Schweinfurt, near Frankfurt. Returning fliers said that smoke from the plant billowed 20,000 feet in the air.

Simultaneously U. S. medium bombers and RAF fighter-bombers attacked German air bases in northern France, Belgium and Holland.

Squadrons of Thunderbolts and Spitfires which supported the daylight operations were credited with shooting down 33 enemy fighters, while 36 Allied heavy bombers, one fighter-bomber and five fighters were reported missing.

Flying Fortresses from Mediterranean bases flew in from the south to deliver a surprise blow at German fields at Istres Le Tube and Salon in France, northwest of the seaport at Marseille. Le Bourget Airdrome in Paris was attacked for the second successive day by RAF bombers yesterday.

RAF Mitchell bombers bombed the marshalling yards at the railroad terminal at Calais.

The Nazis apparently threw every available plane into the air to combat the raids, even using night fighters in a vain effort to repel the attacks.

Brig. Gen. Frederick L. Anderson of Kingston, N. Y., commanders of the Eighth Bomber Command, said "Germany is wide open."

He declared the recent intense attacks on enemy airfields in Germany and occupied Europe were not part of an invasion pattern but rather an attempt to eliminate any opposition to Allied operations by Axis fighter planes.

Once this is achieved, he explained, "we can move from the 'strategic' aerial stage to the tactical — ground-gaining — stage overnight." He saw this possible before many months because inroads upon enemy aircraft have been so great.

The Solomon Islands were named after King Solomon because they were supposed to be the source of gold with which the King decorated the temple of Jerusalem.

GERMAN ATTACK FAILS TO STOP RED DRIVE IN RUSSIA NEAR KHARKOV

Germany from the west, and repeated the call for a second front.

"Only such an operation can cut down the length of the war to any considerable extent," the newspaper said.

The Germans revised their strategic plans since their defeat in the battle for Kursk, it continued, and decided in a special assembly of military and political leaders at Hitler's headquarters to resort to a stubborn defense effort to prolong the war and "delay the imminent catastrophe."

Red Star said the battles at Kursk and Orel "proved the superiority of Russian troops over Germans both on the offensive and defensive."

The newspaper said, "The Allied command carried out a well-prepared landing operation in Sicily," but added:

"The struggle for Sicily, however, failed to divert a single German division from the Soviet-German front. The German military observer Capt. Ludwig Ser-torius said a few days ago that not a single plane had been shifted to Sicily from the Soviet-German front. Consequently all the possibilities opened by the victorious offensive of the Red army have not been used so far for strong blows on Germany from the west."

Red Star estimated there were 211 enemy divisions in Russia and 91 in the rest of Europe, including 35 in France, Belgium and the Netherlands, eight or 10 in the Balkans, a similar number in Norway, 20 in Austria, and the rest in Poland as reserves for the eastern front.

"The disposition of German forces and reserves clearly proves that the German general staff does not await any forthcoming large serious operations by the Allies on the continent," the newspaper said.

AMERICAN DOUGHBOYS SEEM LOST IN MESSINA AFTER BATTLE FOR CITY

snipers opposed them, in contrast to the bitter fighting a few days earlier. Then the troops began to pour into the ravaged city from the hills, with a few hundred civilians on hand to cheer them.

But suddenly the doughboy seemed lost. He stood in the streets hardly knowing what to do. There was no one to fight. The battle was over and he appeared nervous and uncertain in the unaccustomed calm.

There was no elation or hilarity apparent over the historic entry into Messina. The troops just walked in, looked around, and sat in the shade to catch up on sleep or eat their tinny rations.

There probably will always be arguments as to who entered Messina first, but it is fairly definite. Two scouting parties reached the town about the same time. They were led by Lt. William Gunter of Commerce, Ga., and second Lt. Ralph J. Yates of Austin, Tex., and Jeff McNeely of Lubbock, Tex.

They found the port city, with a normal peacetime population of 125,000 virtually deserted and smashed to piles of debris under the pounding of the Allied Air Force hitting at the important Messina-to-Italy ferry lines.

In all Sicily there was no city wrecked as thoroughly and efficiently as Messina. Its wide streets, tree-shaded boulevards and modern buildings—now torn and tattered by the heavy aerial bombardments — reflected prosperity and civil well-being second only to Palermo.

SCHOOL BOARD APPROVES HOT LUNCH PROGRAM

First National Bank Is To Be School Fund Depository

Approval of city school hot lunch programs was one of the last minute details cleared up at the meeting of the city board of education Tuesday night, said A. B. Murray, superintendent of city schools here are slated to open September 7.

The bid of the First National Bank was accepted as depository for school funds. The deposits will be made at the First National Bank for the next two years.

Plans for the city school hot lunch program were approved by the board. At present, according to Murray, the lunches are to be served at the high school, Sunnyside and Eastside buildings. If there is enough demand for the lunches, serving will start in October; if not, they will begin serving in November.

Any children who attend buildings where lunches are not served may go to the building nearest them to obtain lunch, Murray said. He explained that the program would be continued as long as food and labor supplies permitted.

ITALIANS IN GREECE UNDER GERMAN THUMB AND IN BAD MOOD

most of them in Athens, have been replaced with strong Fascists.

There is plenty of evidence the Italians in Greece are in a dangerous mood. Upon orders from Italian headquarters in Athens, most Italian troops in continental Europe remained in their barracks for ten days after the fall of Mussolini.

Only after Premier Pietro Badoglio decided to continue fighting did the Italian high command give permission for troops to circulate in the streets, but the Germans forbade them to appear in groups of more than two.

The Germans have occupied Kalamata and Gytheion in the south Peloponnese, Patras at the northwest corner of the Peloponnese, and Nauplia at the south central side of the Peloponnese. Above the Corinth Canal they took Preveza, which is the port of entry for all Epirus, Vios, the port for Thessaly, and Piraeus, sea gateway to Athens.

Reports reaching here said many Italians now are trading their revolvers and machineguns to Greeks for civilian clothes. The Germans are said to be arresting all Italians found in civilian clothes.

One case of trouble was reported from Athens. The Athens garrison tried to join other troops passing through from the south towards Epirus. The Germans were said to have been forced to intervene to keep the garrison at its post.

FDR IS NOW IN CANADA FOR CONFERENCE WITH CHURCHILL FOR WEEK

British colleagues and Canadian hosts.

He rode among cheering throngs and through the quaint, winding streets of the city to the parade ground of the Citadel for brief official welcoming ceremonies, then devoted the evening to relaxation as the dinner guest, with Churchill and Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada of the Earl of Athlone, Governor General of the Dominion.

All through last night, as for many days before, lights blazed among the turrets and towers of the Chateau Frontenac, where the highest ranking military, naval and air commanders of New Britain and the United States and their technical staffs toiled on new blueprints of action against foes already rocked by bitter defeats in Africa, Sicily, Russia and the Pacific.

The President heard new glad tidings from the Sicilian war as his special train rumbled toward Quebec yesterday. Word of the taking of Messina by American troops reached him enroute.

The war news was no less bright from Russia, where Red Armies are lunging westward.

All these victories offer new factors of consequence to the war planners in Quebec. They would appear to call for bold tactics and relentless aggression to maintain and amplify the growing pressure on the enemy on all fronts until the final crackup comes.

ALLIES POUND INVASION GATE OF ITALY AFTER STEPPING STONE TAKEN

75,000 troops on the island, of which at least 30,000 were lost, not counting the number drowned in the evacuation.

The enemy's losses in tanks destroyed or captured up to August 10 was given as 280.

Allied casualties for the entire Sicilian campaign were estimated at 25,000 men, Eisenhower said.

The general's report said at least 502 enemy guns were destroyed or captured up to August 10.

Axis plane losses were more than six times the Allied losses, being 1,491 for the Axis to 247 for the Allies from July 1 to August 17.

The general said in a prepared statement marking the end of the battle of Sicily:

"The enemy's proud boast he would drive the Allied forces into the sea wherever he met them in Europe seems to be as empty as the promise to the German people that not one bomb would fall on their cities.

"Our troops have done everything the best troops in the world could have done," he said.

"As much pride in the British Eighth Army as any Briton.

"Now we've brought up an American army that is a worthy partner of the Eighth Army."

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, he pointed out, now has a powerful one-two punch—the ability to swing two real armies as he sees fit.

"Both armies are ready to go at any minute," he added. "We can count on them with complete confidence."

Allied leaders agreed the 38-day conquest of Sicily had been accomplished at a gratifyingly low cost and it was not expected the total Allied casualties would be in excess of the 70,000 suffered in the Tunisian campaign in which the American army lost 2,184 killed.

The prize was a strengthened hold on the Mediterranean sea route and a number of excellent airfields well within striking range of Axis strongholds in central and southeastern Europe.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower could use the Sicilian base as the springboard for offensives aimed at a dozen likely points around the Mediterranean basin.

To a patrol of 27 American infantrymen of the Third Division fell the honor of being the first Allied troops to set foot in Messina.

An American artillery unit set up its "Long Toms" in a vineyard and at 11:33 A. M. the colonel and commander of a field artillery regiment pulled the lanyard that sent the first Allied shell screaming across the strait toward Italy.

American cannon poured round after round of shells across the water and overhead Allied bombers streaked across the sky to hammer away at the invasion beaches and rail and road communications behind the new Axis lines.

Messina itself was a litter of rubble and shattered military transport.

WORDS INADEQUATE

Gen. Eisenhower at Loss To Express Praise of Troops

By RELMAN MORIN ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Even Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was reaching for words—words strong enough to carry what he wanted to say about the men who conquered Sicily.

Usually the commander-in-chief speaks rapidly with vigorous, picturesque phraseology. Ordinarily he has an answer ready before a question is fully asked.

But at a press conference today he groped around for a good five minutes trying to express his satisfaction over the performance of American and British troops when they came up against crack German divisions.

Finally he broke into a stream of mild but emphatic expletives and said:

"They did everything the finest armies in the world could have done."

Eisenhower said the correspondents could quote that—minus the original cuss words.

16-YEAR-OLD GIRL HELD FOR KILLING

Weird Story of Shooting of Two Told to Police

COVINGTON, Ky., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Sixteen year old and pretty Jo Ann Kiger was charged in a warrant today with murder in the fatal shooting early Tuesday of her father, Vice Mayor Carl C. Kiger, 49, and her youngest brother, Jerry, 6. The warrant was signed by Sheriff Jacob B. Williams of adjoining Boone County.

The two died amid a fusillade of bullets as they slept in their summer home southwest of this northern Kentucky city. Mrs. Jennie Kiger, 49, Kiger's wife, was wounded during the tragic climax to the couple's 24th wedding anniversary, observed Monday.

Authorities were to question Mrs. Kiger, confined under police guard in a Covington hospital. She was shot through her right hip.

Mrs. Kiger said she called to Jo Ann during the shooting: "Did you have a nightmare?" "Sergeant Melvin Huff of the Kentucky Highway Patrol said: "There's a crazy man in here who's going to kill all of us," Jo Ann was quoted by Huff as replying: "I don't want to be left alone in here."

Sheriff Jacob Williams of Boone County said that Jo Ann told officers immediately after the shooting that she awakened at the sound of shots, ran downstairs and obtained two pistols.

BOMBERS FROM BATTLES IN AFRICA AND SICILY ARE BACK HOME AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Three battle-scarred bombers, veterans of many missions over North Africa and Sicily, were back in the United States today in preparation for a home-front mission.

The war department announced they were the first Martin B-26 Marauders to return from a combat theater and added they had been brought home to tour war plants and air bases.

The 22 crew members, who will tell of bombardment operations in the North African and Sicilian campaigns, including four Ohioans.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Important Result of Victory In Sicily Was Collapse of Fascism and Its Creator

If you had to name the most important result of the Allied conquest of Sicily, what would your answer be?

All things considered, it strikes me that we may have to award first place to a political rather than a military outcome—the downfall of Fascism and its creator.

Of course, the minute you start making comparisons, you get involved. The collapse of the political "ism" had the effect of rendering Italy virtually impotent militarily, apart from such defense as the Germans chose to make. Thus one might well call it politico-military.

Still, whatever way you designate it, this development must rank close to the top among the important events of the global war. Fascism, and the expansive shoulders of the dozen of European dictators, were foundation stones of the Axis attack on civilization. Hitler was the arch gangster, but his fortunes were heavily involved with those of his partner in crime.

The moral effect of this debacle has been tremendous throughout the world. It has convinced the last mother's son among the neutral and non-belligerent nations that the defeat of the Axis is inevitable. It has turned Hitler's small satellites against him. It has given occupied countries courage to carry on against the Boche.

Then there's another wholly political angle. Numerous countries had long been flirting with the Fascist form of government, and some even had inaugurated a modified form of it. Now those countries find the props pulled out from under them, for Fascism has been shown to be a house built upon the sands.

From the strictly military standpoint the rewards of the brilliant conquest of Sicily are great. When this dangerous operation was conceived it had as its objective the reopening of the shipping route through the Mediterranean. This vital thoroughfare passes in the narrow channel between Sicily and Africa, and the big island—heavily held by the Axis—dominated those waters.

For most of the war this route had been closed. Supplies from America and Britain for the Middle East and Far East had to go clear around South Africa instead of taking the short cut through the Mediterranean. This delayed Allied operations in many zones, tied up vast quantities of shipping, and gravely threatened the security of Egypt and the Suez Canal.

Now the Allies dominate the Mediterranean, and there's no chance that Hitler ever again will edge in on that control. He still has a weak foothold on such islands as Sardinia, Corsica and Crete, but they profit him little because his airforce has been all but knocked out in the Mediterranean theater.

All this sums up to the fact that the western Allies now are to a considerable degree masters of their own immediate fate. That is to say, with the Mediterranean cleared, and Italy impotent, they have numerous operations from which they can pick their next move, or moves.

We may or may not invade Italy, but it's no longer a necessity if there are other things we would rather do. Italy is incapable of doing further harm, and it isn't essential that the Anglo-British combine go to the trouble of ousting the Nazis from their fortifications along the line of the Po in northern Italy.

Those defenses are solely to keep the Allies from reaching the northern gateways to France, Germany and the Balkans. But there are other routes—so what? True, the airfields of northern Italy would be useful to the Allies for bombing southern and eastern Germany, but they aren't vital.

Even if bungling Badoglio should surrender unoccupied Italy, the Allies could put a moderate army of occupation into the country and let nature take its course.

It's fortunate that all these favorable circumstances exist right now, for any invasion—or invasions—of the continent, other than Italy, must be got under way quickly or the Allies will be stymied by the bad weather of autumn.

GOOD QUALITY OF CORN BEING PACKED HERE

Tomatoes Also Show Good Quality as Packing Gets Under Way

With the corn pack now under way in real earnest, and several hundred persons employed at the two plants in Washington C. H., reports indicate that the corn is of good quality and that the yield will probably be one of the best in years.

Only a few fields were seriously affected by the corn borer, and these fields had been planted early. The later corn seems to be virtually free of the borers.

Work of canning started last week and the plants were operated part time only during the week and Monday the rain interfered so that the plants did not start full operations.

Now the corn is rolling in in large quantities and is being packed as fast as possible with indications that it will be necessary to operate well into the night part of the time to keep pace with the maturing corn.

At the Fayette Canning Plant well over 200 persons were enrolled as workers Tuesday and this number will be increased later on. Some of those working are spending part of their time at the plant, or jerking corn and the remainder of the time at other work.

The tomato pack started at the Fayette Plant last week, and this phase of the canning is now growing rapidly. The tomatoes are of good quality and indications are that the pack will be a large one. The Ladoga Canning plant on Sycamore St. will get underway with full operation at noon Wednesday, it was stated Tuesday. So far only one line has been in operation as the plant was waiting for sufficient corn to start at capacity.

The number of employees at the plant will not be known until later.

PRE-SCHOOL PUPILS CHECKED FOR 'SHOTS'

Nearly 20 of the pre-school children vaccinated by Dr. W. D. Maag, physician at the county board of education, are being checked by him Wednesday afternoon in his office to see if the vaccinations "took." Several as yet unvaccinated are to be immunized against smallpox.

Cards were sent to the parents of the children notifying them of the time for the children to be at the board of health. As the number vaccinated is too large for all to come at the same time, according to Dr. Maag, each child was notified to come about a week after the vaccination.

All the toxoid shots for diphtheria have been administered now, said Dr. Maag, except for a few "stragglers." "I'm not urging them to take the shots now until after school begins," he added.

MERCHANT MARINE WANTS ENGINEERS

Experienced Machinists Also Being Sought

Commissions as engineering officers in the merchant marine are now being offered experienced machinists, stationary or locomotive engineers, or graduate mechanical or electrical engineers. It was announced today by Ensign J. C. Jahn, enrolling officer for the U. S. Maritime Service, 204 Traction Building, Cincinnati.

Men with at least three years' experience in these fields are enrolled for a one month training course as chief petty officers, then go to sea for two months as junior engineers prior to receiving their commissions and employment on merchant vessels as third assistant engineers. Including all bonuses paid for foreign voyages and in certain war zones, marine engineers are being paid an average of $400 a month for sea duty.

Pointing out that the Merchant Marine's greatest need is for engineers, Ensign Jahn explained that applicants must be at least 19 years old, must not have received an induction notice nor be classified in Selective Service as a vital war worker. There is no maximum age limit.

NEW FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY LAW HAS TEETH

Manufacturers Are Asked To Acquaint Employees With Law

Manufacturers in this city as well as Ohio manufacturers generally, have been asked by the Ohio Traffic Safety Council to acquaint their employees with the new motor vehicle financial responsibility law which becomes effective Sept. 20, and which is the most stringent of any law of its kind ever adopted in Ohio.

Because drivers who fail to comply with provisions of the law may lose their driver license for five years and impair the war effort, the Ohio Traffic Safety Council is enlisting support of the manufacturers.

In a letter to more than 9,000 manufacturers, Harry E. Neal, executive secretary of the Ohio Traffic Safety Council, today emphasized the serious penalties of the new law and the importance of its provisions to any person who uses a car for transportation to and from work or for any purpose.

There are two types of penalties provided under the law, according to Neal.

"For conviction for certain offenses, like driving while intoxicated, failure to stop after an accident, or manslaughter, the driver faces loss of his driving license for three years, unless that driver can show proof of financial responsibility sufficient to take care of any future conviction on charges of that nature," he said.

"A five year loss of driving privileges is faced by any driver where an unpaid judgment for damages is involved. Under the new law, if a judgment is returned against a driver that driver has 30 days in which to pay the judgment or be deprived of his driving license for five years."

Pamphlets explaining provisions of the new law are offered Ohio's manufacturers by the Ohio Traffic Safety Council. In this manner it is planned to get one into the hands of each motorist in the state. Requests for the pamphlets should be mailed to the Ohio Traffic Safety Council, 809 State Office Building, Columbus (15), Ohio.

There were 1,783 deaths on Ohio's streets and highways last year, records reveal, together with 64,000 persons injured and 267,000 accidents involving property damage.

"So great a loss of life and damage to property has a serious effect on war production," Neal said. "We hope when workers are acquainted with the driver responsibility law the traffic loss for 1943 will be materially reduced. Drivers who do not have accidents save their cars for essential war transportation, save life and limb of war workers and generally help to increase Ohio's output of needed material for the war effort."

Program for Year Planned By Fayette County League Of Women Voters Tuesday

Meeting Called at Home of Mrs. D. S. Rowe Tuesday Afternoon — Year's Program To Tie Up with Total War

Plans for the coming year's work, a program designed to tie up with interests brought about by total war, and planning for world-wide reconstruction and post-war organization for peace, were formulated at a meeting of the Fayette County League of Women Voters Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. S. Rowe. The meeting was called by Mrs. Jean S. Nisley, president of the league.

Officers and heads of departments of the league attended the meeting.

An "outstanding" speaker will be present at the first meeting of the entire league to be held in September. The meeting will be sponsored by the league department, Government and its Operations. Other meetings will be held in November, January, March and April.

A special feature of the year's work will be mailing to members the leaflet, "Broadside," which contains the latest thought and information on government affairs. These leaflets are prepared by some of the "most brilliant thinkers of America," according to Mrs. Nisley, and are regarded as "most reliable."

The most recent "Broadside" is titled "Prelude to Postwar Planning" and it tells how the United States can get a foreign policy that will insure us against attack and promote our national well-being. The pamphlet is one of the tools with which league members in 1500 communities throughout the country are armed as they start on a midsummer campaign to recruit an army of at least three million fact-informed men and women.

Scoring our negative foreign policy during the last twenty years, the League points out that such "keep out of war" and "mind your own business" policies neither guaranteed our security nor promoted our national interests, the two principles upon which a positive foreign policy should be based.

"It is necessary to take stock of the position of the United States in a changed world," the broadside states, "and to decide what we have to do to protect our vital interests. For instance, our place in commercial aviation will have a bearing on our ability to defend ourselves; so will our rights to naval and air bases. We need access to raw materials and outlets for trade to assure our prosperity."

Four alternative methods are posed by the League by which the United States can try to secure its future: (1) go all out for armaments in order to protect ourselves, unaided, in both oceans, (2) join in a balance of power arrangement outside of an international organization, (3) join with other nations in an international organization, (4) use a combination of policies.

If the American people choose this time to join an association of nations, the League of Women Voters offers four facts that will influence the form of such an association: (1) no organization can succeed without the cooperation of the three nations who control the military power—Russia, Great Britain and the United States, and of China whose power is potentially great, (2) chances are slight that in the immediate future nations will disarm or transfer their sovereign rights to a super-government, (3) other peoples must be satisfied, (4) any plan must have the approval and support of the American people.

Picnic Is Held At Country Club For Rotarians

The Washington Country Club was the scene of a most enjoyable evening of entertainment, for the members of the Rotary Club, their families and guests, Tuesday evening beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

Approximately one hundred persons were present for the evening's pleasures, and an abundance of delicious and appetizing food was enjoyed. Mrs. Hazel Devins, club hostess, was in charge of serving a tempting dessert course and cooling and refreshing beverages, all of which were furnished by the Rotarians.

Following the picnic dinner the entertainment feature of the evening was given over to the "Bandoliers", a group of musicians from Wilmington who have appeared here several times and whose popularity has led to many return engagements.

This group of men includes Norman W. Cummins, master of ceremonies; Charles Fischer, pianist; Irvin Swindler, Roscoe Brann, Don Cline, Herbert Doak and Loren Brock.

Their program was a delightful one for the Rotarians and their guests. It contained much popular music, a few vocal quartet numbers, some excellent comedy provided by Mr. Cummins, piano solos by Mr. Fischer and as a special feature attraction, Sgt. Ralph Martucci, of New York, as guest soloist, whose rich and powerful baritone voice won exceptional praise from the audience. Sgt. Martucci, who is identified with the U. S. Army Air Forces, is now stationed at the glider base in Wilmington.

Many of the selections played and sung by the Bandoliers won such enthusiastic applause from the audience that the musicians were forced to respond with encores.

Lions And Rotarians Play Friday

With the second in a series of three softball games coming on Friday night, both the Lions and the Rotarians have been taking their limbering up exercises every day to keep in condition. The games will begin about 8:15 P. M. at Wilson Field where their series is being played.

A surprise, not yet publicly announced, is being planned. Each week they will do something different, one of the coaches said, if it is at all possible. Last week they played a strip game in which every player making an error was obliged to remove one piece of his clothing.

This week's idea is a secret and will not be announced until later this week. No admission is charged for the games but a collection is taken and all of the money, after the expenses are paid, is given to the Boy Scouts to help them in their annual drive for funds.

Uniformed Scouts collect the money from the fans who crowd the bleachers. Last week, over $40 was taken in and there were no expenses as F. E. Hill, local manager of the Dayton Power and Light Co. and one of the Rotarians, announced that the lights "would be on the house" and no charges would be made. Usually, the YW-YMCA is charged for them and $3 collected from the teams playing.

Come out Friday night and see the Lions play the Rotarians. The Rotarians will be out to win as the Lions Club won last week by a score of 6 to 5.

Yankees Still Have Plenty To Keep Old Chariot Rolling

By JUDSON BAILEY
(By The Associated Press)
The polish may not be so bright as in former years, but the New York Yankees' chariot keeps rolling more smoothly than it did in the days when it was baseball's shiniest streamlined model. They have won ten consecutive games in the American League and since July 5 have won 32 out of 43 games. Yesterday they victimized the Chicago White Sox again 4-2 with chunky Charley Wensloff, the rookie right-handed ace, pitching his fifth five-hitter of the season and 14th complete game in 19 starts.

Philadelphia Athletics lost their 11th straight game, dropping a 4-3 decision to Detroit as the Tigers moved into a tie with the idle Cleveland Indians for third place. In the other American League game John Niggelvin pitched five-hit ball as the Browns belted the Boston Red Sox 4-1. A pinch single by Manager Joe Cronin saved the Sox from a shutout. In the National League the St. Louis Cardinals looked like world champions again in subduing the Brooklyn Dodgers 7-3 with Alpha Brazil, a rookie recently called up from Sacramento, to give him eight hits and driving in three runs himself on a triple and single. It was his third success without a setback. The Cincinnati Reds lengthened their winning streak to six games with a 10-4 decision over the New York Giants.

50 FRESHMEN AND FOUR VETERANS MAKE UP BUCK FOOTBALL SQUAD

COLUMBUS, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A rigorous training schedule—keyed to the battle cry "Beat Michigan"—awaits candidates for Ohio State University's 1943 football squad. Coach Paul E. Brown has warned prospective wearers of the Scarlet and Gray they should come prepared to take it—and later to dish it out to Michigan—when they report for practice August 30. Fifty freshmen and five 4-F veterans of last year's Big Ten championship team have received invitations to appear at the stadium for physical examinations and to receive uniforms.

Actual practice starts Sept. 1. "A great experience awaits you and you must be at your best both physically and mentally, to meet it," Brown told squad candidates in his invitational letter. "If you report out of condition, you simply do not represent our type of man and we cannot use you. Football is important to the type of men we are looking for."

Brown added: "In our last game on November

20, we play Michigan—the big game of the year to us. We would rather lick them than all the rest of our opponents put together. We will be greatly outnumbered in this game. Plan to be at your absolute best this day—think about it—set your hearts to it—plan on it. We must get there by being well knit and fighting for our lives."

The September 25 opener is against the Iowa Seahawks.

Methodists Defeated in Close Game

One regular and one exhibition game was played Tuesday night at Wilson Field with Albers trimming the Methodists in the first game, 6-3, and the Fayette Grange defeating Moores in the second game, 9-2. The Methodists scored all of their runs in the fifth inning on four consecutive hits with none out. Lightfoot, Albers pitcher, allowed the Methodists only 3 runs on 8 hits while Sheidler, the Methodist hurler, allowed 6 runs on 9 hits.

Albers scored their runs all during the game and were leading 5-0 when the Methodists scored.

It was the last league game for the Methodists but some plans have been made for them to play the Presbyterians next week.

Moore's scored first in the game with two runs coming to them in the third inning. They then led until the fifth when the Grangers sent two runs across the plate to tie up the score.

An argument arose in this inning when Wilson hit a single, scoring DeWees, and then proceeded all the way around the bases. The ball followed right behind him. The Moore boys contended they had called time so Wilson was put back on second. Wilson scored anyway, as Grimm, incited by the decision of the umpire, hit a long triple, almost a home run, and was called out sliding into the plate.

Both teams played harder after the argument but the Grangers were more worked up about it. In the sixth, three hits by Reno, Brandenburg and Curry filled the bases. Ray Warner then walked, sending Reno home. Russ Warner got a hit, scoring the next runner, Brandenburg, but Curry was called out at the plate. DeWees hit and McCoy walked, filling the bases. Zimmerman hit a long triple into right field, clearing the bases, and he scored after Wilson bunted.

A total of seven runs came in during the inning to give them a lead by the same number. The Grangers held Moores down during the first of the seventh.

Two games will be played Wednesday night at Wilson Field. At 7 P. M., the Presbyterians will meet Moores in a regular league game and at 8:30 the Fayette Grange will play the 98th Aviation Squadron from Patterson Field. This bunch of colored players has one of the best records on the field.

On Thursday night, Albers will play Coffmans in the first game at 7 P. M. to play off an old game which was postponed on July 12. The Grangers will play again on Thursday night against the API at 8:30 P. M.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Springfield, Ohio's team won its way into the American legion junior baseball sectional eliminations by defeating Belle, 6 to 1, in the regional tournament here yesterday.

The Ohio nine went through the regional event without a defeat. In addition to Belle, the Buckeye Club knocked over Louisville, Ky., 3-1, and whipped Washington, D. C., 8-4.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—AP—After a decline for gains extending to about 2 cents, rye ran into selling today and lost about half of the previous upturn. Cattle receipts 209 head. Market was fairly active and all grades of steers and heifers sold at steady prices with a week ago. Top $16.10. Dry fed cattle were scarce and they were very active and sold readily from $15.00 to $16.10. Medium steers and heifers fed grain or grass were $12.50 to $15.00. Grass cattle have begun to move in larger numbers and are selling mostly from $11.50 to $12.50, depending on quality and finish. Straight grass cattle are still selling very good and it is our opinion that they should be sold as soon as they become finished for their grade. Good butcher cows were $11.00 to $12.50. Medium and cutters $8.00 to $10.00. Canners $11.50 to $12.50. Thin light kinds lower.

COUNTY SCHOOL BUS DRIVERS ARE HIRED FOR 1943

Seven Vacancies Remain To Be Filled Before Classes Resumed

Only seven vacancies today remained in the school drivers corps of the county schools. For the most part, drivers for this year will be the same as last.

The Perry Rural Board of Education has hired Homer Smith as their bus driver. The bus services 64 school children daily, according to W. E. Knedler, clerk of the board.

Earl Moore will drive a bus for the Concord Rural Board of Education and a vacancy left by Ray Bond is yet to be filled, said Earl Anderson, vice-president of the board. The two buses together drive 80 children to and from school daily.

The six drivers employed by the Jefferson Village board provide transportation for 350 children, said Hugh Creamer, president of the board. The drivers are Clyde Rings, William Delarue, Howard Keith, Rev. E. R. Rector, Frank Chaney, and Paul Blackmore.

None of the five bus drivers needed by Jasper Village Board of Education have been hired, according to Grant Morgan, vice-president of the board.

The Wayne Rural Board of Education has rehired Sam Day, Ace Murray, Tom Braden and Gene Britton to drive the four buses carrying 200 children to and from school daily, said Robert Rodgers, president of the board.

Warren Foster, Norvel Shaffer and Harry Butcher have been employed by the Bloomingburg Rural Board of Education to drive their buses this year. Foster replaces O. E. Howsman, according to Omar Rapp, president of the board.

The Madison Rural board has hired Jasper Cox as bus driver and janitor for the high school building and Howard Clark, Floyd Hornback, George Ramey and Otis Ramey as drivers, said Homer L. Wilson, president of the board of education. The buses drive about 200 children daily.

One vacancy remains to be filled by the Marion Rural Board of Education. Harry West has been hired as driver of one of the buses carrying 70 children daily, according to Loren Reif, president of the board.

The two buses driving 60 children to and from school each day to the Paint rural schools will be driven by Cleon Coe Bookwalter and Orville Moats. They are employed by the Paint Rural Board of Education, according to H. L. Zimmerman, president of the board.

Union Rural Board of Education has hired Walter Thompson, Homer Garinger, Elmo Wilson, Charles Mitchell, Glenn Hidy, Roscoe Haines, Ervin Miller, Albert Warner and Harry Zimmerman to drive the nine buses carrying 325 children daily, according to O. T. Mossbarger, president of the board.

Eldon Marshall and Ray Cummings have been employed by the Green Rural Board. The two buses drive 80 children to school each day, said Russell Theobald, president of the board.

HORSE FROM HERE WINS BLUE RIBBON

Familiar Figures in Shows Here at Hilliards

Although the night horse show, which was regarded as one of the finest in this section of the country, has been discarded as a part of the annual Fayette County Fair, the interest in fine harness and saddle horses remains here where the pattern was set for those that are still being held. Many horse shows have been called off for the duration but the one at Hilliards, where the Franklin County Fair is held, was put on Tuesday night with much of the old time glamor.

A horse from Fayette County, Midnight, owned by William M. Campbell and shown by Sonny Long, was awarded the blue ribbon in the junior five-gaited class.

Mrs. Elliott Bonnie, a former resident of Washington C. H., who exhibited at the shows here in the past, placed second in the class for amateur lady riders, riding Sky Rocket. The class was won by Miss Kathryn Jones, another of the well-known exhibitors here in the past.

Miss Jean Rittenour of Piketon, another of the favorites of Fayette Countians when she showed her jumper here, won the open class at Hilliards with her Bessie Dare. Her veteran, Dare Me, was tied second in the model hunter class.

100 SOLICITORS ADDED TO FORCE OF 'BONDADIERS'

Extra Solicitors Are Needed To Reach $1,018,000 Quota for September

About 100 solicitors will be added to the present county organization of the War Finance Committee to help meet the September quota of $1,018,000, said F. E. Hill, chairman of the Fayette County War Finance Committee.

The extra "bondadiers" are needed because the quota is based only on non-banking sales and even more citizens must be contacted than in previous drives, Hill explained.

Fayette County exceeded its quota of $1,025,000 for the first six months of 1943 by $41,000. The 104 percent of the quota rated the county 14 among the 22 counties in area three of Ohio.

Hill declared that the organization of the Fayette County War Finance Committee, including the 100 additional solicitors, would be "ready to go" on September 1, the opening date of the new drive. The extra solicitors will be distributed through precincts and townships where they are most needed, he added.

A "steady flow of subscriptions each day during the campaign" is sought by John H. Rowe, chairman of the War Finance Committee for area three. He explained that during the last campaign, some sections in the counties were not as fully covered as others and thus some of the work piled up. Rowe recommended the increase in solicitors in a recent letter to Hill. "The September quota may be hard to reach unless we all are fully organized well in advance," Rowe pointed out, emphasizing the need for added personnel.

The Madison Rural board has hired Jasper Cox as bus driver and janitor for the high school building and Howard Clark, Floyd Hornback, George Ramey and Otis Ramey as drivers, said Homer L. Wilson, president of the board of education. The buses drive about 200 children daily.

One vacancy remains to be filled by the Marion Rural Board of Education. Harry West has been hired as driver of one of the buses carrying 70 children daily, according to Loren Reif, president of the board.

DISLOYALTY OF JAPS IN U. S. NO BETTER

110,000 Interned But Some Have Been Released

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—(P)—Disloyal Japanese still are disloyal and are making no bones about it.

Robert B. Cozzens, assistant director of the War Relocation Authority, in an interview today said nearly all of the minority of interned Japanese—those who professed sympathy for Japan in a registration six months ago—say they still are of that mind.

"People who made up their minds during registration are sticking to it," he said, and "it looks like segregation is going to be successful."

Originally, some 110,000 Japanese were evacuated from the coastal area and placed in 10 relocation centers. Some have been released to take jobs.

BROKEN NECK FATAL TO BOY 16 YEARS OLD

Gail Smith of Near Rock Mills Dies Following Fall from Horse

A broken neck sustained in a fall from a horse Monday, resulted in the death of Gail Smith, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, residing on the Greenfield Road not far from Rock Mills, in Grant Hospital at 3:30 A. M. Wednesday.

Gail had suffered a dizzy attack Sunday and a second attack Monday about 10 A. M. while he was riding a horse out to the highway to obtain the mail.

The fall crushed two vertebrae in his neck, and he laid helpless upon the ground for three hours before discovered by members of the family, who saw the horse near the barn, knew that Gail had gone after the mail, and investigated.

He was fully conscious all of the time he was lying on the ground, but was almost completely paralyzed.

He was taken to Grant Hospital, Columbus, and an emergency operation performed in an effort to save his life, but death resulted early Wednesday.

Funeral plans, in charge of the Walker Funeral Home at Greenfield, have not been made. In addition to his parents, Gail is survived by two brothers, Robert and Marlin.
